Languages: Ukrainian, English, German

Teaching Experience: 10

Type of temperament: Sanguine-Melancholic

Pace of study: fast

Teaching approach: learner-oriented

General information: I have 10-year experience in teaching English for all levels and ages. I have also worked as an English translator for 2 years. I have travelled to different European countries and I have noticed the importance of knowing English language not only for work/study but for travelling and entertainment as well.

I think that we should learn all our lives and it's never late to start and make a great contribution to our development. First of all, I am a friend to my students and we are open to each other. Therefore I appreciate individual approach to each student. They always tell me their preferences, desires and needs and then we implement them during learning process. I have a communicative approach to learning languages. We discuss different topics which are interesting for a student during our lessons.

Interests: I adore reading books (fiction, non-fiction). Having read a book, I always write down my own thoughts and impressions of it. Discussing literature is my passion. I enjoy listening to music, I think everyone does. And of course, I always try to develop myself on my own and together with my students every day.

Character: open, easy-going and friendly
